

A house to dream about

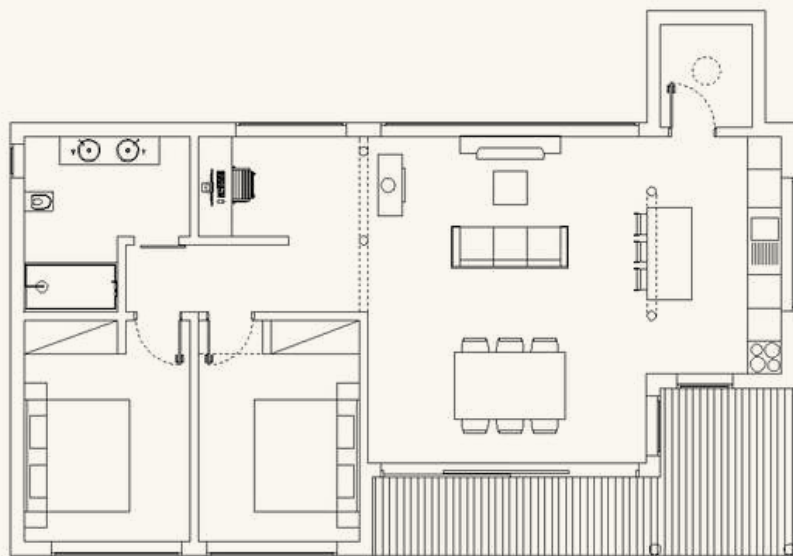

When designing your home, the only limit is your dreams. This could well be it. A 114m² two-bedroom house with large glazed areas that let light into the interior and allow you to contemplate the landscapes outside. Although relatively small in size, this house has everything to guarantee the utmost comfort. A very large open area of over 50m² forms the social space of the house, with the living room and dining room joined to the kitchen, only separated by an island, and a small office or reading or TV area discreetly hidden by the fireplace or wood burning stove. A technical room allows us to place the machines and installations we want to keep hidden.

📍 Vila Nova de Cerveira (PT)

📅 2024

🕒 8 weeks

📏 114m²

Materials

Timber frame structure in Japanese cryptomeria wood and Nordic spruce, with interior and exterior cladding in Japanese cryptomeria.

Achievement

RUSTICASA®